HAPPY NEW YEAR

ANOTHER YEAR GONE BY – ALREADY

It's Already 2019 and 2018 is a growing memory. Hopefully all or most of you had a great year all in all and look forward to the damage we can do this year. Well, maybe damage is the wrong word.

BACK TO THE EVERYDAY ROUTINES

Hopefully despite the hustle and bustle of the everyday grind that is our day to day lives we can keep a hold of at least some of that wonderful Christmas spirit. The feeling that gives us hope in our fellow human being even when it may not be deserved. I'm just saying.

VALENTINES DAY REAL CLOSE NOW

We all know that Valentines Day is what we call a "Hallmark" holiday but most of us celebrate the 14th with the ones we love as we are supposed to, and nowadays want to of course. It wasn't that long ago my wife and I celebrated our Christmas gift exchange on the 14th of February. It was kind of a hoot to have our own thing going on those days but these days we celebrate Valentines day as a Valentines day. Still a hoot because we make it so. That's what couples are supposed to isn't it?

ENJOYING THE WINTER BUT LOOK FORWARD TO OUR OREGON SPRING

For me the spring means bike riding catch-up. I will be trying to put on the miles I couldn't during the winter months. I did get to ride a few times in December and it was awesome! Chilly, but awesome.

A HAIKU FOR OUR DEPARTED ONES

*Although they are gone
They remain alive in us
Just never forget*

HANGGANG SA MULI
